

COGNITIVE SCIENCE AND THEORY OF COMMUNICATION

WEBINAR – 2026

HOW TO WRITE A PROJECT IN PHILOSOPHY OF MIND

Date: 24 April 2026 – 15:00 – 17:00

Online:

Webinar - Cognitive Science and Theory of Communication - 2026 | Meeting-Join | Microsoft Teams

Or:

<https://teams.microsoft.com/meet/36456260688793?p=VHipTyhCJPKHB9eL7u>

Introduction:

Dr. Paolo Livieri
(Università di Messina)

Presenters:

Dr. Cassandra Williams (University of Toronto)
Dr. Cameron Yetman (University of Toronto)
Dr. Ariel LaFayette (University of Toronto)

INFO: PALIVIERI@UNIME.IT

INFORMATIONS

The 2025–2026 webinar for the Cognitive Science and Theory of Communication curriculum will be dedicated to research training. The program will feature a one-day webinar involving three speakers: three advanced PhD students from the Department of Philosophy at the University of Toronto.

Each participant will present their research project, addressing its structure, central arguments, developmental timeline, anticipated duration to completion, and its relevance to contemporary academic debates.

Each presentation will be allocated 20–25 minutes. A formal question-and-answer session is not scheduled; however, attendees may pose questions if time permits.

Grading

Assessment will be based on attendance and the submission of a research project. The research project must be submitted within two weeks following the webinar to paolo.livieri@unime.it.

Provided that the research project adheres to the prescribed format (here below), each student will be awarded a total of 5 CFU.

Research Project Format

Length: minimum 2500 words.

Sections to be included:

- 1) Brief introduction of topic
- 2) Structured outline of the research project
- 3) Expected results
- 4) Bibliography of at least 10 references that are deemed coherent with the research project

Further instructions:

Please, indicate the following on the the first page of your research project:

Your Full Name:

Student ID number (Matricola):

Name of the Host: Dr. Paolo Livieri

The research project must be sent to Dr. Paolo Livieri – paolo.livieri@unime.it

Schedule

The meeting is scheduled for April 24th, from 15.00 to 17.00 (Messina time).
Further information about the schedule will soon be advertised in the Department's website.

Info

For Info, please email: Dr. Paolo Livieri, paolo.livieri@unime.it